PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE: She's Done It Again

She's done it again! She sure isn't backing down on her hard line stance and one has to appreciate her belief in the rights of her native countrymen. A breath of fresh air to see her lead. I wish some leaders would step up in Canada and the U.S.

Australian Prime Minister does it again! This woman should be appointed Queen of the World. Truer words have never been spoken. It took a lot of courage for her to speak ...what she had to say for the world to hear. The retribution could be phenomenal, but at least she was willing to take a stand on her and Australia's beliefs.

The whole world needs a leader like this!

Prime Minister Julia Gillard says, "Australia Muslims who want to live under Islamic Sharia law were told to get out of Australia, as the government targeted radicals in a bid to head off potential terror attacks. Separately, Gillard angered some Australian Muslims by saying she supported spy agencies monitoring the nation's mosques.

"Immigrants, not Australians, must adapt. Take it or leave it. I am tired of this nation worrying about whether we are offending some individual or their culture. Since the terrorist attacks on Bali, we have experienced a surge in patriotism by the majority of Australians."

"This culture has been developed over two centuries of struggles, trials and victories by millions of men and women who have sought freedom. We speak mainly English, not Spanish, Lebanese, Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Russian or any Other language. Therefore, if you wish to become part of our society, learn the language!"

"Most Australians believe in God. This is not some Christian right wing political push, but, in fact, because Christian men and women, on Christian principles, founded this nation, and this is clearly documented. It is certainly appropriate to display it on the walls of our schools. If God offends you, then I suggest you consider another part of the world as your new home, because God is part of our culture."

"We will accept your beliefs and will not question why. All we ask is that you accept ours, and live in harmony and peaceful enjoyment with us."

"This is OUR COUNTRY, OUR LAND and OUR LIFESTYLE, and we will allow you every opportunity to enjoy all this. But, once you are done complaining, whining and griping about OUR FLAG, OUR PLEDGE, and OUR CHRISTIAN beliefs, or OUR WAY OF LIFE, I highly encourage you to take advantage of one other great Australian freedom..... THE RIGHT TO LEAVE! If you aren't happy here, then LEAVE. We didn't force you to come here. You asked to be here. So accept the Country YOU accepted.

Amen, Lorraine Tweed

70 % of Americans believe that the trading privileges afforded to the Chinese should be suspended.

I was buying food the other day at WalMart. On the label of some products it said, 'From China.' For example, the "Our Family" brand of mandarin oranges says right on the can 'From China.' For a few more cents I could buy the Liberty Gold brand or the Dole brand from California.

....why do we need the government to suspend trading privileges?

SIMPLY DO IT YOURSELF, AMERICA!!

Simply look on the bottom of every product you buy, and if it says 'Made in China ' or 'PRC' (and that now includes Hong Kong), simply choose another product, or none at all. You will be amazed at how dependent you are on Chinese products, and you will be equally amazed at what you can do without. Who needs plastic eggs to celebrate Easter? If you must have eggs, use real ones and benefit some American farmer. Easter is just an example, the point is do not wait for the government to act. Just go ahead and assume control on your own.

THINK ABOUT THIS: If 200 million Americans refuse to buy just $20 each of Chinese goods, that's a billion dollar trade imbalance resolved in our favor...fast!!

Most of the people who have been reading about this matter have implemented it on April 4th and will continue until May, 5th That is only one month of trading losses, but it will hit the Chinese for 1/12th of the total, or 8%, of their American exports. Then they will at least have to ask themselves if the benefits of their arrogance and lawlessness were worth it.

Remember, April 4th to May 5th!

AMERICANISM by Nancy Fiorillo.....Let's Give the Good Guys a Chance

In August of 1993, a Fort Bragg soldier entered a popular Fayetteville restaurant ranting about President Clinton and gays in the military. He was heavily armed and randomly shot through the crowd killing four and wounding six. The restaurant owners, a married couple 75 and 63, were killed along with a 26-year-old man from Fayetteville and a 46-year-old man from Illinois. Some of the injured suffered through months of rehabilitation—one is still suffering to this day. A waitress at the restaurant that night later told me that the entire episode lasted less than ten minutes, but it seemed like hours.

Witnesses described the terror in the restaurant during the rampage. Tables were overturned in hope of hiding from the gunman, people escaped into restrooms and workers hid in the kitchen. Sgt. Kenneth French, 22, stalked them. An off-duty police officer ran across a busy street when he heard the shots. He managed to enter the restaurant and wound Sgt. French in the leg.

Despite the wound, French got up and continued firing. He aimed his weapon point-blank at a young man and pulled the trigger but found he was out of ammunition. He reloaded. Finally, a police officer entered through the kitchen door, wounded Sgt. French again ending the shooting spree.

The NC House recently passed a bill to permit fire-arms in restaurants and public places. Of the many soldiers and civilians in that Fayetteville restaurant back in 1993, if only one had been armed, there is a great chance that lives could have been saved and injuries prevented.

*I don't want to return to the Wild West of our past, but, with the proper screening and concealed carry permits..... we can at least give the good guys a chance.

Obama's omitted from the guest list to the Royal Wedding in April

This from the "London Daily Telegraph" Editor on Foreign Relations "Let me be clear: I'm not normally in favor of boycotts, and I love the American people. I holiday in their country regularly and hate the tedious snobby sneers against the United States. But the American people chose to elect an idiot who seems hell bent on insulting their allies, and something must be done to stop Obama's reckless foreign policy, before he does the dirty on his allies on every issue." One of the most poorly kept secrets in Washington is President Obama's animosity toward Great Britain, presumably because of what he regards as its sins while ruling Kenya (1805-1963).

One of Barack Hussin Obama's first acts as president was to return to Britain a bust of Winston Churchill that had graced the oval Office since 9/11. He followed this up by denying Prime Minister Gordon Brown, on his first state visit, the usual joint press conference with flags. The president was "too tired" to grant the leader of America's closet ally a proper welcome, his aides told British journalists.

Mr. Obama followed this up with cheesy gifts for Mr. Brown and the Queen. Columnist Ian Martin described his behavior as "rudeness personified." There was more rudeness in store for Mr. Brown at the opening session of the United Nations in September. "The prime minister was forced to dash through the kitchens of the UN in New York to secure five minutes of face time with President Obama after five requests for a sit down meeting were rejected by the White House," said London Telegraph columnist David Hughes. Mr. Obama's "churlishness is unforgivable", Mr. Hughes said.

LEGISLATIVE by Linda Jarrett.....A debate currently rages, both in Washington and across the country, that has the potential to greatly change the legislative and political future of our country...Did the GOP make the best deal possible on Friday, April 8? Or, did the GOP "fritter away" the momentum granted by the November election results?

Following are summaries of the positions of two men who are easily recognized as being politically astute, each representing one of the two main differing analyses of the events leading to the April 8 "deal".....

Dick Morris maintains:

- It is a simple matter of keeping one's campaign promises;
- While voters will "accept" the pro-rated share of the advertised total of $61 billion over seven months", "any freshman who votes for a budget deal below $61 billion will face a 2012 primary and likely be defeated either for a nomination or in the general election;
- A fundamental split between Tea Party and establishment Republicans will have opened and will not heal for the balance of the session. If Boehner needs to cross the aisle to borrow Democrat vote to pass the deal, he will become a Coalition Speaker;
- The real Republican conservatives will be in the minority in the House, but they will have with them the vast bulk of the GOP electorate;
- The Republican Party will win a government shutdown. It will be the defining event of the 2011-2012 cycle. Faced with a choice between more spending and less spending, the American people will back less spending. The lessons of 1995-1996 do not apply, and
- If they take a deal below $61 billion, they will split their party, alienate their supporters, trigger a mass of primary fights, lose their ability to strike deals over the debt limit or the 2012 budget and terminate the revolution of 2010...and Obama will be re-elected.

(Note: Above written before the outcome was announced.)

Lastly, was it even a greater "cave" in that it involved "accounting smoke and mirrors" to magnify the size of the cuts to imply a greater future effect? If so, it is counter to the promise made by Rep. Ryan during presentation of "Path to Prosperity" to "tell the American people the truth" from now on.

Or, is the 'deal' better characterized by Speaker Boehner, who maintains:

- Given Obama's position of no cuts, and, his facing Biden & Reid, in addition to Obama, he negotiated long and hard;
- That given his long, drawn-out resistance to Dem counter-proposals, the results of "real money not being spent" was a major accomplishment;
- While he did not achieve as much as he wanted, what was achieved should not be minimized;
- The agreement reached 4/8/11 was a "down-payment", a "warm up" for what is to come;
- That it was time to declare victory and move on to the 2012 Budget and Debt Ceiling issues;
- That the GOP has now moved from "saving billions to saving trillions; and,
- That for the first time the culture and dialog in Washington has changed from amounts of "spending" to amounts of "cutting".

Further, the Speaker is adamant that Obama will not receive a "Clean Bill" on the Debt Ceiling increase, as Obama has directed, and, that major policy changes affecting future spending will be attached instead. Otherwise, there will be no increase in the Debt Ceiling approved by the House. Further, Representative Ryan has stated that even if the "Path to Prosperity" is DOA" in the Senate", the House will stand firm, keeping its collective campaign promise to The People.

Regarding these two stands, the question remains whether the White House perceived last week's negotiation process as difficult enough to believe that these are, in fact, firm stands which will withstand the test of time and events. I suspect that time will show that a combination of these two diametrically opposed positions will best serve the GOP, and, hence, our country.

GOP Leadership (guided by voter opinion, GOP principles and stated campaign promises of 2010) will absolutely need to demonstrate "good faith" efforts and choose certain positions from which they will not deviate. Sufficient publicizing of their activities will enable the necessary gains of control of the Senate and White House in 2012 so that the process may continue and accelerate to accomplish the real work of major repair.

Our duty as American Patriots was not completed in November! That battle won is a long way from winning the war. We must invest time and effort in being heard! Eighteen months remain in which we must add our voices to those across the country to assure a continued watchful eye. Legislators must be kept aware that Voters are monitoring their actions, and have certain expectations from whichwe will not waiver.

Illegal immigrants are boycotting Arizona by the thousands by moving elsewhere, showing their outrage with Arizona 's controversial new SB-1070 law.

In the small town of Guadeloupe , AZ, south of Phoenix , Manuel Renaldo is one of those who is punishing Arizona by leaving. As he loaded his stolen car with his belongings and family of ten, Renaldo told this reporter through an interpreter "It's a matter of principle. I refuse to be supported by a state that treats me like a criminal."

The effects of the exodus are being felt by Arizona retailers who are reporting dwindling sales of beer, spray paint, and ammunition. Also hit hard are the state's hospitals, which have reported a dramatic decline in births and emergency room visits. Tattoo parlors are in a state of panic.

Renaldo told a reporter through an interpreter: "He and his family are moving to California , which is a state that will support him and his family with dignity."

Arizona says, "Adiòs, Renaldo.....buena suerte!"

Churchill's words come alive again in a new "day-and-age" of Islam's influence in the world. Short and interesting! Subject: CHURCHILL ON ISLAM.....HERE IS THE SPEECH:

"How dreadful are the curses which Mohammedanism lays on its votaries! Besides the fanatical frenzy, which is as dangerous in a man as hydrophobia in a dog, there is this fearful fatalistic apathy. The effects are apparent in many countries, improvident habits, slovenly systems of agriculture, sluggish methods of commerce, and insecurity of property exist wherever the followers of the Prophet rule or live.

A degraded sensualism deprives this life of its grace and refinement, the next of its dignity and sanctity. The fact that in Mohammedan law every woman must belong to some man as his absolute property, either as a child, a wife, or a concubine, must delay the final extinction of slavery until the faith of Islam has ceased to be a great power among men. Individual Muslims may show splendid qualities, but the influence of the religion paralyses the social development of those who follow it.

No stronger retrograde force exists in the world. Far from being moribund, Mohammedanism is a militant and proselytizing faith. It has already spread throughout Central Africa, raising fearless warriors at every step, and were it not that Christianity is sheltered in the strong arms of science, the science against which it had vainly struggled, the civilization of modern Europe might fall, as fell the civilization of ancient Rome."

Sir Winston Churchill; (Source: The River War, first edition, Vol. II, pages 248-50 London)

DUH.....

A few months ago, President Obama received and was reading a report that there were over 100,000 cattle guards in Colorado . The Colorado ranchers had protested his proposed changes in grazing policies, so he ordered the Secretary of the Interior to fire half of the "cattle guards" immediately!

Before the Secretary of the Interior could respond and presumably try to straighten President Obama out on the matter, VP Joe Biden, intervened with a request that...before any "cattle" guards were fired, they be given six months of retraining for Arizona border guards. "Times are hard," said Joe Biden, "It's only fair to the cattle guards and their families!"

Moral of the Story (with apologizes to Mother Goose):

"If you voted for Obama in 2008 to prove you're not a racist, you'll have to vote for someone else in 2012 to prove you're not an idiot."
